Who is Harri?

Harri is the workforce Management platform for the hospitality industry partnering with over 160 operators using Harri to source, hire and manage their teams. Harri clients had 4 million applications of which 1.5 million were new unique candidates in 2019 and received an application every 8 seconds in January and February this year.

Why this free portal?

Operators in hospitality have two major concerns in relation to their people:

- To keep their employees gainfully employed during this period of crisis.
- How to keep the European service industry workforce in the UK if they are made unemployed in the short-term. These employees are unable to return from Europe due to visa restrictions when the market stability returns.

Harri is working with hospitality operators to facilitate short term employment within sectors like warehousing & distribution that have a surge in need for additional staff during this period, but will see a rebalancing of the employment needs when the hospitality sector recovers.

This service is free to employers seeking workers.

How will it work?

1. All we need is your permission to take jobs from your website
2. We distribute the jobs through the Jobs Portal, where all hospitality employers will direct any redundant workers
3. Applicants can be redirected to your ATS or managed within Harri including 1 click apply, screening, phone screening and video interviewing
